

Game: FIFA Challenge

KEY

- goal
- cone
- team 1
- team 2
- ball
- ball movement
- player movement

Learning focus attacking: play out from the back-overloads

Learning focus defending: win the ball back underloads

How to play

Aim for the reds: seek to play to attacking half and offer support to a striker

Aim for the blues: seek to win the ball back and counter attack reds when possible.

Possible.

Options:

1. 1v2 and score-2 goals
2. 2v2 and score-1 goal
3. 3v2 must score, if not team lost the goal

Decisions, challenges & questions within the game

- When would you play forward to attacking half and when to keep on your own half?
- When you offer support to your striker?
- What type of movement you will executed to offer support for player with the ball?
- Show me your starting positions that can helps you beat the first pressing line (2 blue strikers)?
- Why would you drop to 5-yard channel?

Game levels (progressions)-children can move to next level

Only when they feel ready and achieved success in previous level.

- Level 2: Play against 2 strikers-overload/ underload
- Level 3: Play against 3 strikers-equal number
- Level 4: Play 3v2 in each half. Reds seek to beat the first line of 2 blues strikers and play the ball to attacking half. Blues try to prevent it. 5-yard channel-players can drop to receive the ball unopposed

Options:

1. 2v3 and score 2 goals
2. 3v3 and score 1 goal; 3. 4v3 must score, if not team lost the goal

FIFA required accurate passing ability over different distances
FIFA required receiving ability-first touch inwards or outwards, away from danger

FIFA required intelligent movement to create passing lines. Changing directions under pressure to beat opponent without the ball

FIFA required players find different ways to beat first line of pressing (when to pass into attacking half and when not to)
FIFA required to understand when to be patient and when to play quick

FIFA required transfer window, when teams can switch one player according to team current needs.